
Charles F. Shreiner '50 Scholarship for Study in Latin America

Academic Year 2015-16

The Charles F. Shreiner '50 Fund for Latin American Studies is the gift of several generous alumni of Latin American Studies at Saint Joseph's University. Thanks to this endowment, the Latin American Studies Program can now offer three $900 scholarships to SJU students to support study in Latin America. This might be in the form of a study tour offered by SJU, spring semester abroad, or internship abroad. Preference will be shown toward applications of students aiming to participate in a SJU study tour to Latin America, particularly those that are approved Latin American Studies courses. Future scholarships will be available for academic year 2016-17.

Eligibility

To be eligible, a student must have already taken or be currently enrolled in one or more Latin American Studies courses at Saint Joseph's. This course can be in any of the supporting disciplines. All Saint Joseph's University students, regardless of major are invited to apply, though preference will be given to students who have declared a minor in Latin American Studies and who demonstrate financial need. Applications will be evaluated by members of the Latin American Studies Advisory Board on the basis of financial need, performance in Latin American Studies courses, plans for future study, and the merits of the study abroad proposal, including whether or not the study tour is an approved Latin American Studies course.

Application

The application consists of two parts, due by Monday, October 19, 2015 at 12:00 noon:

- the application form
